

THE GREAT HAYDEN TRIAL.

THE ACCUSED CLERGYMAN'S CROSS-EXAMINATION CONCLUDED.

Mr. Jones's Question About His Horse—The Origin of the Oyster Supper—Mr. Hayden's Youth—Attempt to Throw a Web Around Andrew Hazlett—Hayden or Hazlett?

The forty-fourth day of the Hayden trial closed yesterday. The court room was crowded. Scores of ladies were turned from the door. Mr. Hayden was in his seat half an hour before the opening of court. His wife, father, and mother sat at his side. His friends were out in force, and greeted him with unusual fervor. Gov. Andrews of Connecticut was among the spectators. The Sheriff opened the court in due and ancient form, and the Clerk called the roll of the jury.

"Proceed, gentlemen," said Chief Justice Park.

"Mr. Hayden, take the stand," said Mr. Jones.

The clergyman did so, and three right arm over the back of his chair. He was clean shaven and wore an immaculate white shirt. Mr. Waller resumed the cross-examination as follows:

"Q.—Did you ever use arsenic before September, 1878?

"A.—Never used any at that time."

"Q.—Did you ever use any arsenic before that time?

"A.—No sir.

"Q.—Did you ever use any arsenic before that time?

"A.—About how long? —A.—Say a year.

"Q.—Did you ever see or eat any in butchering animals?

"A.—Possibly.

"Q.—Was it your certain knowledge when you bought the meat? —A.—I supposed Mr. Tyler did, but I don't know.

"MR. HAYDEN'S FATHER A BUTCHER.

"Q.—Was it your certain knowledge when you bought the meat? —A.—I suppose Mr. Tyler did, but I don't know.

"Q.—Did you ever buy a breast pump from him? —A.—I did not.

"Q.—Where? —A.—In Durham.

"Q.—Did you ever buy a breast pump from him? —A.—I did not.

"Q.—Did you ever learn to the taste of carpenter oil? —A.—Yes.

"Q.—Do you know that had any knowledge of the slaughter of domestic animals? —A.—I think I can.

"Q.—Was not your father at one time a butcher? —A.—He was.

"Q.—And a part of that time did you not live with him and drive for him? —A.—I did. I was keeping market for him.

"Q.—About how long? —A.—Say a year.

"Q.—Did you ever see or eat any in his butchering animals?

"A.—It's not a recreation for you to go out and see what it is.

"Q.—Do you ever butcher any yourself—small ones? —A.—Yes.

"Q.—Did you ever hold them while they were being cut? —A.—Yes.

"Q.—What was the box? —A.—A pocketknife.

"Q.—Who identified it by the accused?

"A.—It is the knife on Drs. White and Treadwell's table.

"Q.—On cross-examination Mrs. Scranton said she did not tell whether the knife was washed after the cut was made.

"Q.—What was the box? —A.—A pocketknife.

"Q.—Was the knife not mentioned during the preliminary examination in Madison?

"A.—Not mentioned.

"Q.—What was the witness stand? —A.—He had lived in Rockland and was there when he died.

"Q.—When did you get the knife that you carried before you got married? —A.—I think it was a present from my wife.

"Q.—Whom and where? —A.—Middleton, in 1873 or 1874.

"Q.—Was Burn's knife a two-bladed knife? —A.—No, sir.

"Q.—Was it used in your business? —A.—It was.

"Q.—How did it compare in size with the Hayden knife?

"A.—It was the girl from your wife a two-bladed knife?

"Q.—Was it a small two-bladed knife?

"A.—That is about the size of the knife of the accused? —A.—I never did.

"Q.—When you first went to Middleton? —A.—He was there about a month.

"Q.—When you returned to Rockland? —A.—He was there about a month.

"Q.—This is not true before the Coroner's jury that you never saw the knife in the sitting room? —A.—I was not quite sure.

"Q.—But you say so? —A.—With some feelings? —I was not quite sure.

"Q.—Did you say so? —A.—Tell me, Mr. Waller, that I am not quite sure of this subject.

"Q.—Tell me, Mr. Waller, that I am not quite sure of this subject? —A.—Tell me, Mr. Waller, that I am not quite sure of this subject?

"Q.—Tell me, Mr. Waller, that I am not quite sure of this subject?

"Q.—Tell me, Mr. Waller, that I am not quite sure of this subject?
